DOROTHY S - Broad Creek

The two masted auxiliary schooner Dorothy S (ex Stephen) was built by Henry Warnecke at Sandridge, Victoria. The wooden vessel measured 72.7 feet (22.2m) in length, 19.0 feet (5.8m) breadth, 7.4 feet (2.3m) depth and 51 gross tons. The Stephen was launched on 11 July 1868 and first registered in Melbourne in October of that year.

In 1920 the vessel was renamed Dorothy S, being registered in Port Adelaide in November 1922 under the ownership of Richard Gericke of Edithburgh. In 1923 ownership changed to F H Clausen.

By October 1926 the Dorothy S was derelict on the bank of Garden Island. Robert Rake, of Charles Rake and Son, sought Harbors Board permission to move the vessel to Bream Creek, a side stream of Broad Creek.

Some few months back I observed a ketch hull drawn upon the North Shore of the North Arm, being desirous of securing a hulk of this type for the housing of two hydroplanes, I would be very grateful if you could advise me if there is any possibility of having the hulk removed to Bream Creek for the above purpose.

Approval was given, and the vessel removed to Bream Creek, where in June 1928 it was noted as abandoned. The register was closed in 1935.

Today the Dorothy S is located in a small creek off Broad Creek. The site is above high water mark amongst the mangroves. The remains include an intact bow stem and some ribs and planking.
