South Australian Heritage Council

Submission on whether the entry of Piggery Breeding Pens, Loveday Internment Camp Complex should be confirmed in the South Australian Heritage Register

The South Australian Heritage Council can only take into account heritage significance of a place as defined by the Heritage Places Act 1993 (Act) when considering places for entry on the South Australian Heritage Register. Using the table below, please provide evidence or information to explain why you believe the place does or does not meet the criteria under the Act.

Criteria

| Criteria under the Heritage Places Act 1993 , section 16(1) | Provide evidence or other information why you believe criteria applies or does not apply to this place |
|--|---|
| (a) it demonstrates important aspects of the evolution or pattern of the State's history | I support the listing of the Piggery Breeding Pens, Loveday Internment Camp Complex under this criterion. It is my impression that the World War Two Loveday Camp Complex is not generally as well known as the short-lived and temporary World War One Torrens Island Internment Camp, yet the Loveday Camp was much larger in area and in number of detainees, and food production was an important ancillary role. It is notable that a particularly sad aspect of all internment camps at the end of the both wars is that the majority of civilian detainees were deported. For many, their only crime was being a foreign national living in Australia. So it is important that the remnants of this camp are preserved as State Heritage places to remind us of the impact of war on our State's history. |

|---|--|
| (b) it has rare, uncommon or endangered qualities that are of cultural significance | I support the listing of the Piggery Breeding Pens, Loveday Internment Camp Complex under this criterion. After the end of World War Two, most of the Loveday Complex was dismantled and very little of the complex remains. Loveday was a large producer of food supporting the war effort and the Piggery Breeding Pens are the only remnants of livestock production there. With so few components of the Loveday Complex now remaining, I believe that it is very important that all remnant structures of the Loveday Complex are listed as State Heritage places. |
| (c) it may yield information that will contribute to an understanding of the State's history, including its natural history | |
| (d) it is an outstanding representative of a particular class of places of cultural significance | |
| (e) it demonstrates a high degree of creative, aesthetic or technical accomplishment or is an outstanding representative of particular construction techniques or design characteristics | |

|--|--|
| (f) it has strong cultural or spiritual associations for the community or a group within it | |
| (g) it has a special association with the life or work of a person or organisation or an event of historical importance | |
